

COOKIE POLICY

Centro Style S.p.A., as Data Controller, informs you that this website uses cookies, i.e., technologies designed to improve the user's browsing experience. This policy aims to inform the user about the characteristics and purposes of cookies and the methods to disable them via the browser.

This Cookie Policy applies exclusively to the Centro Style website, although it may contain links to other websites that have their own cookie policies, which may differ from that adopted by the Company. The owner of the website <https://www.centrostyle.com> is not responsible for the cookie policies of such sites or for any damage they may cause to the user.

- WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are small text files that websites send as packets of information to the device used to browse the Internet. They are stored on the device and automatically sent back to the server upon each subsequent visit to the same site.

Through cookies, a website can remember user actions and preferences (e.g., login data, browsing language, font size), so that these do not have to be re-entered each time the user returns to the site or navigates between its pages.

Cookies are used to perform IT authentications, session monitoring, and the storage of information regarding user activities on a site. They may also contain a unique identification code that allows tracking of user navigation within the site for statistical or advertising purposes.

While browsing a site, the user may receive first-party cookies—installed directly by the site operator—and also third-party cookies, i.e., cookies set on the user's device by a subject other than the operator.

Some operations would not be possible without the use of cookies, which are in some cases technically necessary to ensure proper website operation.

- TYPES OF COOKIES

A website may use, individually or in combination, different types of cookies classified according to guidance from the Privacy Authority and opinions issued at the European level by the Article 29 Working Party (Art. 29 GDPR). Cookies differ based on their characteristics and functions and may remain on the user's device for varying periods.

- Session cookies are automatically deleted when the browser is closed.
- Persistent cookies remain stored on the device until their expiry or deletion by the user.

Under applicable regulations, user consent is not always required for the use of cookies. In particular, technical cookies do not require consent—those used solely to transmit a communication over an electronic network or strictly necessary to provide a service explicitly requested by the user. These are essential for the site's functioning or necessary for user-requested operations.

Among technical cookies, first-party analytical cookies and anonymized third-party analytical cookies are also included and do not require prior consent.

Different rules apply to profiling cookies, which aim to create user profiles and are used to send advertising messages in line with user preferences. This type requires prior consent
